

Greenwood City — Andover EAST ANDOVER

— Mrs. Marjorie Jodrey, Cor.

This is one of the times of year when anyone who is able can't stay indoors. It's a time to walk along a country road, along the edge of the forest or across an open field.

The gentians have returned, both fringed and closed. Their colors are never overrated.

Bounding Bet still blooms but looks forlorn.

I climbed the hill to look over the valley one day. My trail ran a thin sun-flecked line. I heard the soft sigh of the wind and enjoyed the green of the forest. At this place I was reminded of the times when I was young I'd go outside alone when the moon was full, to stand, silent and motionless, near a group of trees. There I'd gaze at the green foliage silvered by the moon beams. A sense of mystery would engulf me and then the sense of delight changed to fear. This increased until I could stay no longer, so I'd escape to the security indoors where there were lights for company and to recover the reality of it all. But other moonlight nights found me there again.

As I stood today, there was the hum of a plane which left a misty line of silver overhead across the blue of the sky-bowl.

At the feet of a scraggly, yellow birch I sat to note what transpired around me. Close by something moved. I heard the crackle of a twig and almost beside me sat a squirrel. Our eyes met. He shook himself, puffed his chest and disappeared with lightning speed.

I came to a place where man had in years past cut most of the trees and the kind hand of Nature had hidden its trace. Great rotting logs covered with mosses, ferns, and blackberry bushes were there. The place had changed from great trees to little berries. I descended a steeper hill, and approached the hemlock grove, passing down through maple arches, pausing to observe the antics of a trio of squirrels, a solitude for them, as they ran and snickered, and chattered and frisked at my presence. The damp earth was springy underfoot, as I strolled along, now at the edge of the forest. As I approached home my attention was arrested on a couple of humming birds, the ruby throated. One took shelter among the red salvia blossoms while the other squeaked a warning that the flowers were his. He dove down, as if to dislodge the other. Seeing me he dropped like a feather and in a moment both were gone.

Out on the pond a heron, gulping some luckless frog, lifted his ungainly hulk into the air; mighty wings flailing and went from sight.

What a nice walk! So many things far too abundant for separate notice. Neither eye nor ear, nor inward, nor outward sense was equal to it all. Each may select one thing special to enjoy but can take but a small portion of the abundant beauty.

Evening drew on, the sunset glow embraced half the sky in its conflagration. We watched from our lawn. The air grew cool and a crimson glow fell over the water. The sun set, a star kindled and trembled in the pond, others appeared, separate shadows disappeared and we moved inside.

Reflecting by Z. J. DiArenzo
How could I have forgotten
Just what it would be like,
To be on a lonely country road
On a clear mid August night.
A million stars are blinking
In the sky of mid-night blue
They seem so near that one could reach
And pluck down one or two.
In the city and the suburbs
There are many star-filled nights
But stars seem very far away
When dimmed by man-made lights.

How could I not remember?
It's such an awesome sight
To be in Maine, on a country road
On a starlit August night!

For 12 consecutive years the families along the pond have gathered at Bikini Beach on the Labor Day weekend. Some one named us "The Greenwood City Yacht Club". Many got together and put up the colored lights and banners to get ready for the feast, plus an evening of fun. John Betts instigated its beginning and did the planning. He also was the chief cook. Vernon and Miriam Innman opened their cottage each year and welcomed us at the beach. Max Pulsifer furnished music on the calliope. Everybody brought something for the feed. There was always swimming if it seemed warm enough. A bonfire and a few fireworks marked the evening darkness.

The world is in an uproar over hundreds massacred by a deliberate violent act and well it should be so. But what about the hundreds destroyed daily and legally in this country with taxpayers' money?

The traffic was heavy over the holiday. The weather continued very hot and muggy.

Several have expressed pleasure because Merna is now where we can visit her more often or keep in touch, second hand at least. Keep your spirits up, keep gaining in health and may God bless you, Merna.

Clayton Thompson, relatives and friends, had a clam and lobster cook out at the home of the Brennans Sunday. For some of the guests it was a way of saying thank you to those who helped him move his camp back.

Norma Collingwood has been delivering rose buds to the folks who gave in memory of Gramma Thompson.

Congratulations to the young couple who celebrated their 48th wedding anniversary last week. They object to having their names mentioned in this column.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Wells of Toledo, Ohio, are in town for a few weeks.

Annual Church meeting was held Saturday evening at 7:30. The moderator had previously resigned because of illness and the assistant moderator was attending a dinner engagement, so the clerk presided. Elected as officers, were Mike Bergeron, second chairman; Arline Bernier, clerk; Laurie Bernier, treasurer; trustees to fill two vacancies; Elite Leconte and Mike Bergeron; Elsie Fuller was elected as scheduling coordinator and Roland Bernier as building coordinator. There was discussion as to why Pastor Torbett resigned in January and it was revealed that it was partly because of his differences of opinion concerning action by the Ladies' Aid who was in charge of Christmas Eve program and action of individuals who in an attempt to help both church in general and pastor in particular had requested contributions for hymnals without first getting' sanction from the pastor.

Miss Nancy Taylor, our new pastor, is moving into Mrs. Beth Jones' house on Butters Hill.

The Albert Nelsons are having some work done on their kitchen that was damaged by lightning.

Mrs. Eleanor Nelson has finished her work at Camp Susan Curtis.

Mrs. Sarah Grover visited her two sisters in Norway Thursday. She is always taking flowers or doing some kind act for several of her relatives.

Mrs. Beatrice Farnum and Mrs. Alice Hoyt of Bryant Pond visited Helen Grover, Sunday.

Mrs. Webb and daughter and grandson, Peter, of Connecticut, visited Mrs. Helen Grover, Sunday.

The Stone girls, who have a camp at Lovell, visited Mrs. Sarah Grover, Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Goutin of Norway visited her mother, Sunday evening.

Pastor Larry Shaw planned to attend the annual business meeting but his father was ill and he felt more needed there. For the same reason he returned to Rumford after services rather than participate in the usual fellowship hour.

Safety Tip of the Week

May be a difficult time for those asthmatic and emphysemic patients. Remember if you are having difficulty getting a good breath of air for any reason, try to relax and slow down your breathing rate. Usually the sitting position is the most comfortable position to be in. Get someone if possible to call for the ambulance. Oxygen is available on board, and it may not be safe to see the doctor by family car. The ambulance has people trained to handle all sorts of situations that may arise.

Walking With Jesus Christ

Ever have a beef critter take a fancy notion to explore the world and see what it has to offer? Once in awhile there's one that a fence can't hold in and after tracking him over the mountains of Oxford County one finally needs to take drastic action along the sights of a 30-06—but butchering takes place before the beef is prime.

Put one in mind of a wayward Christian referred to in the Bible as a lost sheep, Matt. 5:13 says—"Ye are the salt of the earth, but if the salt has lost its savor, with what shall it be salted? It is then after good for nothing, but to be cast out, and to be trodden under foot of men—".

Harsh words—"good for nothing". The pathway of life is strewn with those who have fallen by the way-side—why? Because of disobedience to God—which in turn puts one on a collision course with the Devil.

We're to walk worthy of our calling, Ps. 107—"Oh, give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good; for his mercy endureth forever." If we walk our own way we become as the ships at sea—"waves are lifted up, they reel to and fro, and stagger as drunken men, and are put at their wits end. Then they cry unto the Lord in their trouble, and he bringeth them out of their distress.

God's Word tells us how to bring up our family—Sunday School, to Church, having family devotions—putting God first in all

SPIRIT WEEK SEPT. 9-17

Students at Telstar will have the opportunity to pull together by classes as Spirit Week begins, just two weeks into the school year.

Senior class officers are furiously working to provide a variety of activities for the week. A rally is being planned for Friday, Sept. 9 to kick off the week's activities. There is a dance planned for the same evening.

Monday will find classes receiving points for wearing school colors blue and white. For each item worn a student can earn 5 points for his or her class.

Tuesday is pin day. Each pin a class member wears earns 10 points for the class.

Wednesday is only for pennies. Students bring in pennies for their classes treasury with the equal number of points being added to their classes running score. Remember "Penny Power" funds go to the classes treasury.

Thursday will be "Hat Day." Five points for every class member will be given. In addition there will be 400 extra points given for the following categories: 1. Rebel Power; 2. Funniest; 3. longest and 4. Most Original.

Friday is Class Day—Each class member should wear: Polka Dots for Freshmen; Plaids for Sophos; Stripes for Juniors; and Flowers for Seniors. Five points for each item will be tacked onto class scores. Friday evening will find the demolishing of a spirit car at 25 cents a hit, a bonfire and a Greaser dance.

Saturday's activities include competition of all athletic teams, possibility of a dunking machine, a decorated cake contest and the most sneaker competition.

The entire community is asked to take part in the decorated cake contest and the sneaker competition, along with the spirit car demolition. Interested competitors

JACKSON-SILVER POST & UNIT HELD MEETINGS SEPT. 1

There was a large turnout for the Sept. 1 meetings of Jackson-Silver Post and Unit #68 in Locke Mills. To be exact, 27 adults and nine juveniles.

Special guest of the evening was Department President Jeri Brooks of Bethel who gave a very informative talk at the ladies' meeting, that was opened with prayers and the singing of "God Bless America," led by Mary Lyon. President Cathryn Lovejoy named her committee, in part, for the new year. Finance Officer Vera Cross gave a good report on the Friday night luncheons at the game parties, in charge of Grace Smith. She needs some help badly in making sandwiches. Volunteers can phone her at 875-3340.

Music Chairman Mary Lyon announced her program for music month to be held at the Sept. 15 meeting at 7 p. m. Dept. President Jeri Brooks of Bethel and State Music Chairman Jeanne Watson of Bath will be special guests.

The program will be "Songs of Our Wars" from the Revolution to the Vietnam War, with Ruth Mason, the narrator.

Comrades Herb Lyon and Andy Bartlett and helpers are progressing well on the redecorating of the ladies' meeting room. Warren Smith has painted the outside of the big hall—a long job from a ladder, and it looks great.

Three new members were voted into the Auxiliary, Ruth Mason, Fern Merrill and Cynthia Cox. A drive is underway to be 100% by the 15th, in both the Unit and the Post.

The "Christmas in October Craft Fair" was reported on by Chairman Kathy Bartlett. Get you call in for a table early as the cut-off date is Oct. 6. Numbers to call are 875-2475, 875-5578 or 836-2822.

Preceding the meetings the members and families had their cook-out. What a lot of goodies, plus a surprise birthday cake, made by Sally Smith and presented to Comrade Herb Lyon by his wife, Mary, and there was ice cream for all.

P.D.C. John Howe of Ellsworth and his daughter, Olive Risko, of New York were present and spoke briefly.

Ill members reported were William Roberts and Florence York, who is in St. Mary's Hospital, Lewiston.

Don't miss the special program Sept. 15. Commander Charles Mason says the regular dances begin in October with three different bands playing. Watch for newspaper ads.

BETHEL TOWN OFFICE

continued from Page One was the need to arrive at a consensus of opinion whether the Town should have a "full-service" police department, contract for police coverage from an outside source, or resort to an "on call" area constable system. A decision on police policy was postponed until the Board can examine additional data.

After the Manager presented an overview of changing the Town's accounting year from Jan. 1-Dec. 31 to July 1-June 30 and adopting semi-annual tax billing, the Board voted to recommend acceptance at a special Town Meeting to be scheduled for later this fall. Public information sessions will also be scheduled to describe how these steps can significantly reduce the Town's need and cost of borrowing money ($28,810.47 in 1982) to operate in anticipation of taxes, ease the Town's cash flow problems, enhance information and decision making at Town Meeting and offer more payment convenience and flexibility to taxpayers.

TELSTAR TAKES OPENING

The Rebel field hockey squad battled against an aggressive St. Doms team and came home the victor Friday. Playing on a fast field in 87° temperature the Rebels found a new meaning for endurance.

The first 30 minutes found the Saints coming up with the ball, but not being able to find the net. It was anyone's game at half time. Coming out stronger in the second half, Rebel Sally Thompson found the mark twice. The first came 9 minutes into the period and the second 20 minutes later. Assists went to Chris Davis and Vicki Dyer, even though the entire team could be given credit for the tallies. There were other chances to score (12) but the Rebels found themselves wide by inches. Goalie Jodie Seidel had six saves for the team, while Denise Theriault had seven for St. Doms.

Six seniors started their final fall season together: Cindy Boyle, Jodie Seidel, Sally Thompson, Chris Davis, Gerri Gauthier and Georgia Gould.

The team would like to thank Burt and Carol Hathaway and Ray Moran for their part in providing the team with pre-season activities.

Two recent grants by the Economic Development Administration to communities in the 2nd District have reinforced my argument that the EDA can play a vital role in creating new jobs for Maine.

Although the administration wanted to halt funding for EDA programs this year, I joined with many of my colleagues in opposing the elimination of funding, especially at a time when the nation was suffering from high unemployment.

Congress has continued funding and the agency has been given a special responsibility under the Emergency Jobs Program to channel funds to areas of the country suffering from high unemployment to create temporary and permanent jobs.

Without this kind of federal assistance, our towns and communities would probably be unable to undertake the various kinds of improvements that directly or indirectly make their areas attractive for new industries or for existing industries to expand.
